Twelfth Annual North Valley Dairy Day - January 27, 2004

Now is the time to call in and make your reservations for the Twelfth Annual North Valley Dairy Day. The meeting will be held Tuesday, January 27, 2004, at the Kountry Kitchen Restaurant, 729 Fourth Street, in Orland. This meeting is co-sponsored by the University of California and dairy allied industry. It is free of charge, open to the public, and includes an industry-sponsored lunch. Registration begins at 9:30 a.m., and the program runs from 10:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m.

This year's program is packed with the latest research information of interest to dairy producers. The presentations will include discussions about Staph aureus, the latest on air and water quality regulations, managing insect pests on the dairy and zoning and planning changes for Glenn County.

As always, this is a great opportunity to meet with fellow producers, industry representatives and University Extension personnel. This meeting is free of charge and open to the public. Please call the Glenn County Extension Office now at (530) 865-1107 to make your seating and luncheon reservation, or if you need more information or help with wheelchair accessibility. Call early, as space is limited.
