2015 GLENN COUNTY LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT AWARD SELECTED

Two Glenn County 4-H Jr./Teen Leaders were selected for the Leadership Development Award for the 2014-2015 4-H year, reports Jamie Marron, 4-H Program Representative.

Lester “Bucky” Squier IV of the Willows 4-H Club was selected as our Leadership Development Award recipient after being interviewed on April 1, 2015. He is a five year 4-H member and has been involved with numerous projects including swine, arts and crafts, baking and bread making, veterinary science, sports shooting, archery, Teen Council, small engine and leather craft projects. Bucky has held the office of club Vice President and Secretary and has been a Junior Leader in many of his projects. Bucky was also selected as one of the Glenn County 4-H 2015-2016 B.L.A.S.T. team members. He is currently attending Willows Intermediate School.

Maci Amaro of the Clover 4-H was selected as our runner-up for the Leadership Development Award. She is a five-year 4-H member and has been a Junior/Teen Leader for three years in her club’s photography project. Maci is also a member of the 4-H Teen Council, and she hopes to learn community outreach skills from the leadership conference and use them to get others involved with 4-H. She is currently attending Willows High School.

Through Bucky’s and Maci’s efforts, they have earned a paid State Leadership Conference registration fee provided by the Glenn County 4-H Council. The State Leadership Conference will be held at the University of California, Irvine and will provide them with an educational opportunity to expand their leadership skills, increase their
